AEROKINETICS Venturi Flow [PAP]

£4,550 – Only available with AMG 55/63

The AEROKINETICS Venturi Flow Package consists of:

- Active aerodynamic element underbody centre with electric actuator
- Active aerodynamic element, front underbody with electric actuator

Experience unparalleled road-holding and dynamic performance with AEROKINETICS Venturi Flow. This advanced system leverages Mercedes-AMG's aerodynamics expertise, featuring two active aerodynamic elements in the underbody of your vehicle. These elements automatically deploy when needed, precisely controlling airflow to significantly increase downforce – known as the Venturi effect – for exceptional stability at the limit.

The Venturi effect is key to optimum road holding: as air is pressed and accelerated under the car by the adapted floor contour of these elements, a vacuum is created, effectively "sucking" your vehicle onto the asphalt. The result is impressive downforce and enhanced cornering speeds, giving you greater confidence and control.

Crucially, the on-demand use of these active aerodynamics preserves your vehicle's streamlined and efficient silhouette. The front element deploys automatically at 120 km/h, with the center element activating at 140 km/h, ensuring you benefit from this advanced technology precisely when it matters most.

This sophisticated design seamlessly integrates into your vehicle's aesthetics: it maintains an elegant, homogeneous body line when retracted, and confidently accentuates a sporty, efficient presence when extended. It's a perfect blend of cutting-edge technology, stylish design, and uncompromising capability.
